Getting Your Board Onboard with Hospital Quality

For quality and risk leaders in rural health care, board engagement isn't just helpful—it's essential. In smaller communities, where hospitals are lifelines and resources are often stretched, having an informed and invested board can make all the difference. This webinar features a panel of Critical Access Hospital teams—CEOs, quality directors and board members—sharing how they've built strong partnerships to elevate care. Learn how board involvement can strengthen quality programs and improve outcomes. You'll leave with practical strategies to educate, empower and align your board with your hospital's quality goals—turning governance into a driving force for your Quality Assurance/Performance program.

Join us at noon on October 9 for a panel discussion on:

- Building Board Engagement: strategies for educating and activating board members around hospital quality
- Quality and Board Collaboration: examples on how leadership teams work together to align governance with quality goals
- Turning Data into Action: Approaches for presenting quality data in ways that resonate with boards
